

GOD'S DESIGN FOR THE MODERN FAMILY

The Museum of Broken Relationships

Discussion Questions

1. Is there someone in your family with whom you are not on good terms? Who is it? What happened? How has this broken relationship affected your life?

2. How do you think you would have felt if you were thrown into a pit and sold into slavery by your brothers like Joseph was? How do you think you would react if you ran into someone who hurt you?

3. As they say, there are always two sides to every story and Joseph wasn't exactly a saint. Read Genesis 37:1-11. What did he do to agitate his brothers? What would have been a better way for him to handle the situation? What does this teach us about how we relate to those around us?

4. We learned from Joseph's story that God is with us; He wants us to face our brokenness; He is in control; He wants us to confess and forgive; and He wants to heal our brokenness. Which of these truths from Joseph's story resonated with you the most?

5. Our God is the master of KINTSUGI. What do the following verses say about His ability to make all things new? Even broken things?

- Romans 6:4
- Ephesians 4:24
- II Corinthians 5:17
- Isaiah 65:17
- Revelation 21: 1-5

What do these verses tell you about YOU?
